Network for contemporary theatre dramaturgy

Fabulamundi. Playwriting Europe

is a cooperation project among theatres, festivals and cultural organisations in Italy, France, Germany, Spain and Romania. The network aims to support and promote the contemporary playwriting across Europe, in order to reinforce and enhance the activities and strategies of the professionals and artists working in the sector and to provide the theatre authors with opportunities of networking, multicultural encounters and professional development.

The edition 2015–2016 is organized around the theme Crossing generations and is supported by the Creative Europe Programme of the European Union
